Home Furnishings and Accessories Inspired by the Style and Sophistication of "Man at his Best"

New York (July 20, 2010) – Hearst Magazines, in collaboration with its licensing partners The Halo Group, Asia Minor and Go Home Ltd., is introducing Esquire Home, a collection of home furnishings and accessories inspired by the lifestyle of the modern, discerning Esquire man. Incorporating items across key categories including furniture, upholstery, occasional pieces, area rugs, lighting and decorative accessories for the home, the line will make its Las Vegas Market debut, August 2nd – 6th, 2010 in the Four Hands showrooms located in Building A, showrooms 110 and 146.

The style and sophistication synonymous with the name Esquire comes to life through furniture pieces from The Halo Group. Unique features in each piece reflect the same attention to detail as a custom-made suit, including:

The "Triple Whisky Collins" leather sofa brings a cool contemporary style to any room. Signature loden leather, exclusive to Esquire Home, with dark patina brass stud detailing, creates a timeless piece that every man will want to own.

The "Irish Coffee" lamp table boasts antique brass trim, old saddle nut leather and signature jacquard lining for a luxurious accent piece that is both functional and smart. The vintage inspired table captures the time honored construction of a traditional travel trunk infused with a modern flare.

Esquire Home's "Spider's Web" bookcase is as intriguing as the man who owns it. The complex design of the stainless steel frame leaves much to discover behind the black leather shelves for display.
